WORLD'S FINEST FINALE

This year's candy sale was a tremendous success! From October 13 to November 1 the students at TCS sold over 18,000 bars of the World's Finest Chocolate. The top 25 sellers received a prize with the top 3 sellers receiving a trophy as well. Approximately 70 students sold 75 or more candy bars. These students all received a certificate for their hard work. Each student in Miss Miller's First Grade Class received a "Happy Meal" from McDonalds for selling the most candy bars in the Kindergarten through Second Grade Classes. Each student in Mrs. Harris's Fourth Grade Class also received a "Happy Meal" for selling the most candy bars in the Third through Fifth Grade Classes. In the Sixth through Twelfth Grade Classes Mrs. Harvey's seventh graders sold the most candy bars. They received a hamburger from Braums, chips, and a canned drink.

Money from the candy sale will be used to finish paying for the south end of the gym, put water fountains in the south end of the gym, to buy books for the library, record players and cassette recorders for classroom teachers, balls and equipment for the kindergarten and elementary, and to buy weight equipment for the high school.

Char Torti displays school spirit!

CATCH THE SPIRIT

Spirit Week '82 lifted Eagle spirit all over the campus. The week prior to the homecoming game, noted as Spirit Week, is filled with special days of activity and fun for the high school.

Monday was Green and Gold Day. Everyone was to dress in green and gold. The winners were freshman Kimberly Andress and junior Todd Cupit. Also, votes for Homecoming Queen were taken.

Tuesday was Clash Day. The prizes for this day were awarded to the ones who clashed the most. The "clashy" winners were both seniors, Jon Isenberg and Gina Torti. Nominated for Homecoming Queen were seniors Jill Graves, Kathy Durham, Sharla Williams, Cheryl Morris, and Shari Johnson.

Wednesday was Dress-Up Day. No prize was given this day, but ribbons were sold by the cheerleaders. The seniors also sold "I love the Eagles" buttons and bumper stickers.

Thursday was Western Day and Skit Day. The most authentically dressed were Barry Nickerson, freshman, and Shelly Partlow, junior. The seniors won the class skit.

Finally, the big day came. Friday, the day of the Homecoming game, is one of the most important days of the year to the high school students. Alumni were honored on this day. Returning "ex's" participated in the day's activities. They chose the winners of the spirit stick and class cheer. They selected the Junior Class for the best cheer and the sophomores as most spirited.

The outstanding finish to a memorable week came that night. At halftime Jodie Beck, 1981 Homecoming Queen, crowned Jill Graves as the 1982 Homecoming Queen. The queen and her court, represented by Jill, wish to thank you for your nominations. This lovely ceremony was especially enjoyable because the Eagles were leading the Cougars at the end of the first half.

Not only a man in quest of souls, David Livingstone was one of the first ever to be recognized as a great explorer. David Livingstone was responsible for the discovery of many parts of Africa. Because David was born to a poor family, he was largely self-educated. He studied to be a doctor, then heeded God's call to the field of Africa.

His trip to Africa was a long, hard one. When he arrived, he helped many of the African people. On one of his trips as a doctor, he was attacked by a lion. It mangled his arm which bothered him the rest of his life.

After his arm had time to heal, David married a fellow missionary's daughter, Mary Moffat. He and his wife were separated most of the time because of work.

One day, a letter told David his wife was dead. He returned to England to her funeral. While he was there, his mother died.

After a stay in England, he went back to Africa with government funds. He explored more of Africa in a boat given to him by the government. He found it was not suited to his work, and returned to walking. David caught malaria and died on his knees one morning. His heart was buried in Africa, and his body was sent to England and buried there.

Dr. Livingstone, who wrote several books, received many awards and degrees. He played an important part in the colonization of Africa, and at the same time won many souls to Christ. This shows us we can be important in human eyes, yet at the same time live for Christ, too. Let us always be like Dr. Livingstone, keeping Christ first in our lives.

SOPHOMORES STUDY OLD TESTAMENT

In sophomore Bible, students are studying "Old Testament Principles and Philosophies." They have just finished studying the purpose of archaeology and the influence it could have upon us as Christians. The students learned that what we believe about the Bible does not make the Bible any more or less true, since all of the Bible, as God's word, is already true. Therefore, we never need to fear what any archaeologist or scientist may find. Any archaeological or scientific find must be interpreted. Should the interpretation contradict Scripture, the interpretation is wrong and not the Bible.

They are going to carry this same argument through in studying creation. All true knowledge has its source in God. Thus, if any scientific discovery is made, we need never fear it, if it is true knowledge. On the other hand, should the scientist interpret his finding incorrectly, then the truth has been destroyed, and the interpretation will inevitably contradict Scripture. The truth once again arises at this point, "Just because one believes the Bible to be in error, it does not make the Bible erroneous; since what one believes about the Bible does not make the Bible any more or less true," stated Mr. Riffe.

JUNIORS TEST KNOWLEDGE

Recently the Junior Class took a special test. The PSAT is a preparatory test for the SAT, which is required for entrance into most colleges. The PSAT consists of vocabulary, spelling, reading and math. LeAnn Cantrell felt that the test "Contained some hard parts, but I'm glad because it will prepare me for business college." Junior Johnson stated, "It was fairly easy in some parts," and he suggests to sophomores, "Pay attention in English and Vocabulary." Junior plans to pursue a career in architecture.

Each junior received a booklet informing them of the purposes and information of the test. The test is given nationwide, and the results will be returned to the school after they are graded. The test scores are also used in scholarship programs across the U.S.

THIRD GRADE PROGRESSES

Mrs. Isenberg's third grade is moving right along with their math class. They are learning the eight's times tables and studying dividing with remainders.

In hiStory, they are going to learn about Daniel Boone and his many accomplishments. They are also reading Noah Webster's poems and learning about many other historical heroes.

In language they are learning possessive and plurals and correct word usage. They are also learning synonyms, homonyms, and antonyms.

In Bible they are learning the life of David, his reign, and how David's life can apply to their lives.

CHOIR PREPARES FOR CHRISTMAS

The senior high choir is excited about their new Christmas music. They are working on four Christmas pieces, including "White Christmas," "Medley Christmas," "Spanish Christmas," and "Over in Bethlehem." These pieces will be performed in concert December 13 at the Christmas program which includes junior high choir and bands. The "Spanish Christmas" will be sung using maracas.

INTO ALL THE WORLD

For this editions missionary update we have chosen the Fridays, (missionaries to Honduras), and the Mayos, (missionaries to New Zealand).

The Fridays ask for special prayer for a lot that was donated to build a church on. Good! But the problem is the city, El Tejar, says they can't build on it. Once again, Satan interferes with God's work.

In Los Jutes, another area of the Pri-day's work, they desperately need electric lights for evening services. Up to now, lanterns have been all right, but recently the problem has presented itself. Too many people show up for a lantern's light to suffice. Also in this work, Mr. Julio and Martha Cordova are praying about a big step. He wants to take the ministry full time. This is a big step, so please pray for him and his family.

In the third ministry, La Cantadora, the need of prayer is also great. Their members are trying to build once again.

Family feuds (which have resulted in many deaths) prevent meeting in private homes. Bro. Friday feels if they build a church the people can go to, God will heal their old, ill feelings.

Brother Shelby Mayo writes that he is back into the work after a visit and stay in the hospital. His doctor told him he wouldn't fully recover until after six or seven months, but he says he is already doing a full day's work in the ministry.

August 2 Brother Mayo was able to speak in a prophecy conference where his first graduate pastors. At the meeting one young man was saved.

Continue to pray for our missionaries, and more of this growth will be reported. The missionaries appreciate your prayers, so pray for them.

Shari Johnson, a senior, has attended Temple for four years. Shari is a cheerleader this year and her favorite sport is football. Shari's goal in life is to be a police woman so that she can do something for other people instead of for herself. Shari plans to attend college at TCJC after she graduates from Temple. Her main goal for this year is for someone to see her life and see Jesus.

Tim Rollins, a senior, was born in Columbus, Ohio. Tim likes Italian food and all sports. Tim was one of the captains on the football teams. His plans include playing basketball and baseball this year. Tim's goal is to be a success in life and in everything he does.

STUDENTS REPORT FAVORITES

In the high school a poll was taken to see what are the students favorite sports or hobbies. The students listed many things such as: volleyball, fishing, golf, swimming, and bowling. Football was the clear winner receiving 26 votes. Basketball finished a close second receiving 21 votes.

CLASSES PLAN PROJECTS

All of the high school classes are busy doing special things such as: money raising for projects in the future months and lifting their school spirit to its greatest heights.

The juniors' and seniors' main concern is raising money for their expenses that come up at the end of the year. The juniors are planning a variety of events to raise money for the junior-senior banquet in May. Their most recent plan is to sponsor an alumni basketball game, while the seniors are selling bumper stickers and "I love the Eagles" buttons to raise money.

Whether your class is collecting money for future expenses or working on school spirit and projects, you should all work together as a class. Ann Stephens, president of the Freshman Class, declared, "We have got to really work at it as a class and the year will really be exciting. It is our first year in high school, but I think we are starting to get some of that 'high-school spirit.'"

EAGLES CLIMB TO VICTORY!

The TCS Eagles played the Windsor Hills Bulldogs on October 8 at Everman Field. It seemed that the Bulldogs' bite was worse than their bark as they piled up six touchdowns to the Eagles' one. The Eagles' only touchdown came on a 40 yard run by William Andress. The final score was 46-6.

The TCS Eagles played the Bethel Baptist Spartans on October 15 in a hard-hitting ballgame at Hutchison Field. Despite the Eagles' tough playing, the Spartans built up a 32-0 lead going into the final period. The Eagles, not willing to give up, scored two fourth-quarter touchdowns on runs by Tim Rollins of 75 and 25 yards. The final score was 32-16.

On October 22 the TCS Eagles played the Longview Christian Eagles in a fierce defensive battle at Everman Field. The game's only two touchdowns were scored by Longview early in the first half. The Eagles were never really able to set up a good offensive drive but the Eagles' defense held strong throughout the final three periods of play. The Eagles were defeated 16-0.

On October 29, at Everman Field, the TCS Eagles played the Garland Christian Swordsmen in what turned out to be a very rough night for the Eagles. The Eagles were plagued with four first-quarter injuries which reduced the Eagles to twelve players. The Eagles' remaining players gave it all they had, but could not stop the Swordsmen's skillful running attack. The Swordsmen racked up 45 points while the Eagles' only score came when Junior Johnson sprinted 60 yards down the sideline for the touchdown. The final score was 45-8.

On November 5 the TCS Eagles gave their fans something to cheer about. The Eagles played, by far, their best game of the season by beating the Canyon Creek Cougars 40-6 at Everman Field. At half-time the score was only 13-6 but the Eagles came out fighting in the second half and scored 27 unanswered points. Tim Rollins, William Andress and Hoss Ledford led the Eagles' offense with two touchdowns each.

BAND LOOKS TOWARD CONCERT SEASON

Mr. Cranford and his band have completed a very good marching season. The band worked very hard in the season. Mr. Cranford's marching band performed at two games, the Garland game and the homecoming game.

Now with marching season completed, the band will begin the concert season. Mr. Cranford says that he feels like it is going to be a great season.
